

Executive Biography

Rt Hon Sir Jeremy Quin
President
Boeing UK & Ireland

Sir Jeremy Quin is President of Boeing in the United Kingdom and Ireland, taking up the position in November 2025. In this role, Sir Jeremy leads and oversees all of Boeing's business activities in these countries and is based in the company's Central London office. Sir Jeremy's focus is on growing Boeing's business in the UK and Ireland, developing its local workforce and capabilities, and supporting its supply chain operations.

Prior to joining Boeing, Sir Jeremy was a UK Member of Parliament between 2015-2024, during which time he served as a government minister in the Cabinet Office, Home Office and Ministry of Defence. He was elected chair of the House of Commons Defence Select Committee in 2024 and was later an advisor to the UK Government's Strategic Defence Review, published in June 2025.

Before entering politics, Sir Jeremy worked in corporate finance for 25 years, including as a Managing Director of Deutsche Bank, and served as senior corporate finance advisor in the UK Treasury during the 2008 global financial crisis.

Sir Jeremy was appointed to His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council in 2022 and was knighted in 2023 for public and political service. He has a degree in Modern History from the University of Oxford.
